Fellowship

Our church garden has been setup and planted and is now growing! A big thanks to our many helping hands and our generous donations for making this all possible. We hope you take a moment to visit it. With God's hand at work, there is always something new and amazing to see, such as new leaves, new blossoms. If you are interested in helping out with watering, the sign up sheet is in the lobby.

We will continue with Fellowship Hour after church on the front lawn. Our next dates are July 10 and August 21. Lemonade and cookies will be served. We hope you can join us. Thank you to Helen and Amy who donated a welcome addition of tasty homemade treats in June.

We are also looking forward to a couple of fellowship gatherings outside of church this summer. Please save the dates! Sunday, July 10 we will meet at 2 pm for a bike ride at the Manasquan Reservoir. Thursday, August 18 we are planning a Blue Claw's game outing. Stay tuned for more information.

Community Arts Center of Freehold

It's hard to believe that Summer is upon us. After a successful Spring Break Arts Camp, it's time to add a week of Theater intensive for our community. As of this writing, there are already sixteen students registered. We are happy to welcome Tieisha Thomas to the CACF staff to lead our students in a week of various aspects of acting Tieisha comes to the CACF with Broadway/Off-Broadway and Television and film credits. She is a SUNY Buffalo graduate. Stay tuned for information about the end-of-week finale performance on August 19th. All children in the congregation are invited to participate in this theater program. All students attend CACF programs at no cost thanks to our generous supporters.

Community Arts Center of Freehold is a partner organization with the Reformed Church of Freehold, The Freehold Area Open Door Food Pantry, and Gramercy Brass of New York.

Pastor's Pen

This summer we will explore some of Jesus' parables that are found in the gospel of Matthew. Parables are engaging, intriguing, and memorable. Jesus' parables have a personal style, clarity, simplicity, and masterful construction. Parables make us think. They pique our curiosity. They are meant to provoke questions.

Why are laborers paid the same regardless of how long they worked?

Why are the irresponsible bridesmaids not allowed in?

Why sell everything for a single pearl of great value?

While the Greek word for parable means to compare, Jesus would have used the Aramaic word for parable, mathla, which can mean both parable and riddle. Jesus wants listeners to think about God's kingdom.

I am told that Jesus himself asked 307 questions and that 183 questions were asked of him. One source said he answered 3 of those questions, another suggests it was 8. At times those answers still leave us asking questions.

As we look at parables this summer, we will wonder about what Jesus is teaching regarding the kingdom of heaven. How might our understanding of the kingdom of heaven change the way we live now? In Rediscovering the Parables J Jeremias writes, "Jesus is full of joyful confidence: God's hour is coming, and will bring with it a harvest of reward beyond all asking and understanding. . . God brings from hopeless beginnings the glorious end that ... has [been] promised." If we are certain the kingdom of heaven will arrive, as a mustard seed produces a sheltering bush, as yeast causes bread to rise, as seed on good soil produces a harvest beyond measure, how might we live differently? How might we make God's kingdom come and God's will be done here in Freehold?

Peace,
Pastor David
